Matthew 5:9 - “Blessed are the peacemakers,
For they shall be called sons of God.”

“Blessed are the Peacemakers”

- The beatitudes are a lesson in faith, teaching us:
  - How faith begins: poor in spirit, mourning, meek
  - How faith grows: hunger and thirst for righteousness
  - How faith matures: merciful, pure in heart, peacemakers
  - How faith is tested: persecution

“Blessed are the Peacemakers”

- Peace eludes us. In over 3100 years of recorded world history, the world has only been at peace 8% of the time or a total of 286 years, and more than 8000 treaties have been made and broken
- “Avoiding conflict isn’t peacemaking. Avoiding conflict means running away from the mess while peacemaking means running into the middle of it. Peacemaking means addressing those issues that caused conflict in the first place. Peacemaking can never be separated from justice. They go hand in hand. Peacemaking means speaking the truth in love, but speaking the truth nonetheless.” (Peggy Haymes)

“Blessed are the Peacemakers”

- “Peace demands the most heroic labor and the most difficult sacrifice. It demands greater heroism than war. It demands greater fidelity to the truth and a much more perfect purity of conscience.” (Thomas Merton)

“Blessed are the Peacemakers”

- “This is the true joy in life, the being used for a purpose recognized by yourself as a mighty one; the being a force for good instead of a feverish, selfish little clod of ailments and grievances complaining that the world will not devote itself to making you happy. I am of the opinion that my life belongs to the whole community, and as long as I live it is my privilege to do for it whatever I can. I want to be thoroughly used up when I die, for the harder I work the more I live. I rejoice in life for its own sake. Life is no brief candle for me. It is a sort of splendid torch which I have get to hold for a moment, and I want to make it burn as brightly as possible before handing it on to future generations.” (G. B. Shaw)
